

YEMD Board Application Form – PART 1

Post Applied For	Co-Chair Of The Young Emergency Medicine Doctors Section (Yemd)
Candidate Name	Giorgia Borio

1. Personal Statement/Motivation Letter (max: 500 words)

Please use the space below to highlight any key skills, qualifications, achievements or experience which evidence your suitability for the role:

I am Giorgia Borio, an Emergency Medicine Specialty trainee in Italy. I am currently working at San Raffaele Hospital, a tertiary hospital in the north of Milan, serving as IRCCS: Scientific Institute for Research, Hospitalization and Healthcare.

Since I started my training in Italy I have seen emergency medicine changing not only in my country but everywhere especially after the COVID pandemic.

Throughout the world this period of great difficulty has made clear the fundamental role of emergency medicine, bringing to light a fundamental need: to train professionals highly qualified to care for the “undifferentiated critically ill” irrespective for the cause but even more to embody the motto “anyone, anything, at any time”.

As a young emergency medicine trainee looking to be a professional emergency medicine physician to provide the best emergency care I realized I wanted to be an active part of this change.

During my trainee I have been to the United Kingdom to learn from solid ED’s realities, firmly convinced that I could bring to my country ways of seeing and experiences that could enrich not only me, but also my colleagues in Italy. There, I was able to build a network to share experiences, knowledge and create new links.

I have also participated in various research groups, national and international that have led to publications being able to express my teamwork skills.

Finally, I am representative of the emergency medicine trainee in Milan. Being an effective intermediary between students and professors, we were able to make our training program more in line with national standards.

As an active member of EuSEM, I will be the OC Chair of the YEMD Refresher Course that will take place in Italy on November. With this role, last year I had the opportunity to get to know closer the big group of the EuSEM’s Young Emergency Medicine Doctor section. We worked together, we shared the work of organizing this important event and I undoubtedly think Young Emergency Medicine Section must become the point of reference for all the national realities of young people involved in the emergency medicine allowing to amalgamate and unify all the training processes all across the world.

I believe I am suitable for this role of co chair because I consider my fundamental principle to have solid organization, proper communication and firm bonds to find common ground and create win-win solutions.

I ask for your vote for the elections and I look forward to earning your trust.

Giorgia Borio
